The Acro-Spirit by David Hayward

In case anyone was wondering where the design for the finish on my Acro Wot came from (probably not, but I'm telling the story anyway) it actually came from a model I built in the mid-eighties called a Spirit.

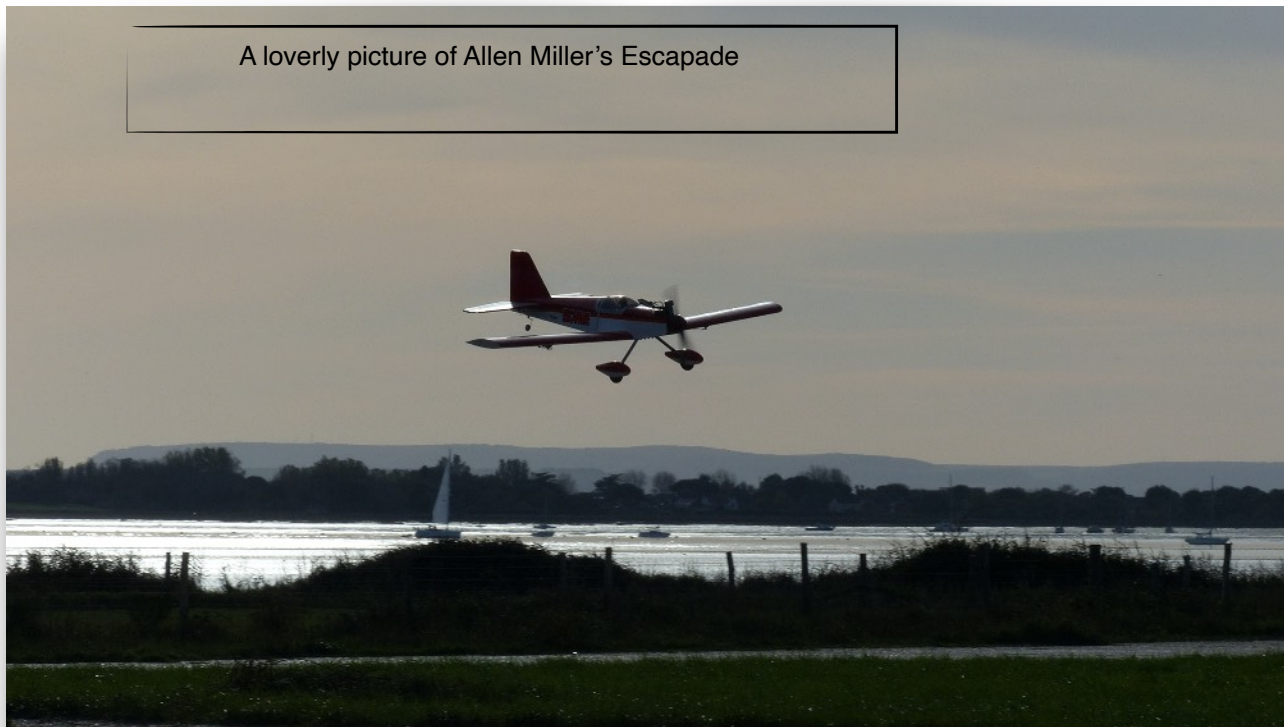

A sprightly 40" aerobatic model for which I wanted a finish a little different from the classic slope back stripes sported by many aerobatic models. I can remember (unusually for me) having decided on the diamond shape, I considered having all four card suits on the wings, but for some reason, which I don't remember (usual for me), just going for stripes on the other wing.

It was a lovely little model, with I believe an Enya 19 for power and my old Fleet 35mhz 6 channel radio. Reproducing that design on the Acro Wot was just a bit of personal nostalgia. You can still get the plan for the Spirit from Outerzone.

A lovely picture of Allen Miller's Escapade

Peter Doe and his petrol powered model

Duke and Derek fine tuning Derek's very rare model the name of which escapes me

My Aero Master powered by a MVVS motor and a three cell 2200 battery

--------------	--

Flying alone on Thorney is not recommended however pilots are requested to concentrate on flying within the grass area to the west of the runway.

When Driving Around Thorney be aware of young children on bikes

Please Try to leave Porthole as tidy as possible, making sure no fuel is left on site

The Commander at Baker Barracks Thorney and the MOD have decreed that there shall be NO drone flying whatsoever

When flying at Thorney please keep an eye out for traffic(all kinds walkers, horses, bikes, runners, and low flying aircraft) coming from behind the flyers and inform them accordingly

The club Facebook page is now in its fourth year. It has over one hundred members. It contains many contemporary site reports, and has a wealth of photos in its archives.
